Think of Iceland and people normally think of hip Reykjavik and the beautiful therapeutic Blue Lagoon. But this land of boiling mud pools, spurting geysers, glaciers and waterfalls is also an adventure playground! Iceland is the least densely populated country in Europe, with a pure, unpolluted and truly magical landscape which has been an inspiration to artists and photographers. On your visit you can marvel at the amazing, undulating green, blue, yellow and pink lights of the aurora in the night sky!
